The Rules Inspired by H. B. Olson

In public, support your subordinate's endeavors whenever possible.

If you didn't get prior approval — then you probably just made a donation.

Communicate orally; confirm in writing.

The quality of work that you get out of others will rise or fall depending on your preconceived expectations.

Chiefly Speaking: By Alan Bast

Brothers,

I would like to start off by thanking everyone who helped out with the Order of the Arrow's program at Summer Camp. The weekly Brotherhood Conversions, OA Movie Night, and Call Out Ceremonies were a huge success. Everywhere I looked, people were willing to help with whatever I, or other Officers, needed.

Also, concerning the Shower House, groups of volunteers came and provided Cheerful Service during Summer Camp. I would like to thank all that have helped out or are going to help with the Shower House. It is coming along and is looking great.

We have two more Ordeals, Fall Fellowship, and Winter Banquet coming up in the year. I would like to see every single member of this Lodge attend at least one of those events. Too many members just pay their dues (hopefully!), and just wear their pocket flap and sash. That is not what being a member of the Order of the Arrow is about. It is about being involved, attending events, giving Cheerful Service, and, most importantly, having Fellowship with your fellow Brothers in the Wimachtendienk.

This lodge has the potential to be great. I will try my hardest to make this lodge great, but I cannot do it alone. If more people go to events, these events will be better. New youth members, I urge you to go to this next ordeal. You can volunteer as an elangomat, or just help with the service project. Adult members, I urge you to get arrowmen in your troop to attend events. I would love to see church buses, or just cars of arrowmen pulling up at the next ordeal, or any event for that matter.

2011 is about being involved. I saw a great start of that at Summer Camp. So now, it is your turn to GET involved in 2011.

Yours in service,
Alan Bast
Lodge Chief

Summer and the Brotherhood: By Ben Brown

Fellow Arrowmen,

Summer time is a very busy time for the OA, but not busy in a bad way. Throughout the summer, we have done service around the camp moving tents and other various projects benefitting the camp. I hope to see more people at ordeals and other events to help all of us in cheerful service.

Every week at camp we had a brotherhood conversion. Through the 4 weeks of summer camp and the one ordeal, we have had over 30 new members convert to brotherhood. After ten months of being an ordeal member, you are able to convert at any Order of the Arrow event such as the upcoming ordeals and fellowship. If you are curious about what it takes to convert to brotherhood, please contact one of the lodge officers or advisors. I want to see every member possible convert to brotherhood and seal their membership in the lodge.

As many may or may not know, ceremonies are a large part of what the OA does. If you are curious about ceremonies or if you want to even take part in a ceremony, please see me or any other officer at any lodge event. The next event is the Sporting Clays Service Ordeal on August 19th - 21st. Please show up and join us all in cheerful service.

Yours in Brotherhood,

Ben Brown
Vice-Chief of Brotherhood

Spring Ordeal: By Sunder Willett

To my fellow brothers in Kawida Lodge,

Anguish fills my heart as I write this, knowing that so many of you missed out one of the epic-est events of the year. Spring Ordeal took place in May and boy did we have a blast! Even the heavens contributed by holding off on the heavy rain until we had finished our main work and ceremonies! The attending arrowmen can attest to the fun that we had. While we did work, (work is important) we also played, a lot.

I cannot recall the number of BS games (that's boy scout to you) that were played, not to mention Rook. Then there was pie, (mmmm...coconut!) and we were serenaded by the house band. Thanks are very much in order to the Watts and Mr. Stanley. If there ever was a time when you should listen to the banjos, Spring Ordeal was it.

Most importantly though, thirty-four candidates became Ordeal members in the Order of the Arrow. Congratulations!

I look forward to seeing you at upcoming events. The Sporting Clays Service Ordeal is sure to be a blast. The lodge helped with the Sporting Clays two years ago and if this year will be as fun as before then you'd better be there!

Yours in Brotherhood,
Sunder Willett

Summer Camp Ordeal: By Jake Redenbaugh

Brothers,
We've had a very successful Summer Camp Ordeal! 22 candidates either helped fill in pot holes, dug drainage ditches or rearranged cots and tents in preparation for Camp McKee's largest week. In addition to all of the candidates passing their ordeal without flinching, one brother sealed his membership by going through his Brotherhood Conversion. If you're interested in being an Elangomat, or just a giving helping hand at either of the next two Ordeals, feel free to email me at viceof-service@kawida.org. I hope to see you soon at the Sporting Clays Service Ordeal!

Lodge Adviser's Minute: By Alan Watts

From the Adviser

It has been a busy year thus far. The officers of the lodge have conducted lodge activities through summer camp and are preparing for the third Ordeal. The shower house is most of the way finished, but not in time for the summer camp season. We can only blame the protracted rain we had this spring and summer for the delay.

Your lodge still needs your support in getting members not in good standing to pay their dues for 2011 and those eligible to seal their membership on the Order by converting to Brotherhood. Next week a group from the lodge will be off to Indian Summer for a week of fun and learning about the Order of the Arrow and Native American Traditions and Activities.

When we return the time for the third Ordeal will be upon us. We will need all hands on deck for the event. The sporting Clays Classic will also be run that weekend and the lodge will be there to help with the event as well as help our camp ranger prepare the camp for the fall season.

I ask all of you to remember that Scouting and the Order needs you more than ever, so jump in, lend a hand and show some Scout Spirit.
